Community Food Systems Bibliography—March 2013 Updates

This is a partial update to the Community Food Systems Bibliography, originally published in April 2012. This bibliography gathers published literature on local and regional food systems and categorizes the literature by key topics.

The original bibliography covered literature published from 2000-2011, and contained approximately 1650 articles. In early 2013, we conducted a partial update using the original search methodology. This updated added an additional 526 articles published between September 2011 and January 2013. These new articles are included in the master Excel and EndNote downloads, and listed separately for reference in this PDF.

For the initial Community Food Systems Bibliography and methodology, please refer to the original PDFs: http://www.sarep.ucdavis.edu/sfs/CFSresources
